

VA Research on the Treatment of Depression

Do you experience depression that has not gotten better despite taking antidepressants as prescribed?

You are not alone – up to 2 out of 3 people treated for depression still have symptoms

If you answered yes, you may qualify for a research study that involves changing your current medication or adding one of two other medications. Your participation in this study will last up to 9 months.

For more information or to participate please contact your own doctor to discuss enrollment in this study.
